Methuen's Loss Is The World's Gain
Methuen High School is the place in which 444 children were cultivated into young adults. Over the course of four years, the students acquired much needed knowledge from their teachers and parents which will help them battle the abundant pressures of this world. This knowledge will serve as a sound foundation for their upcoming lives of independence. These graduates have accomplished a great deal during their high school years, and more will be accomplished by them in the years to come.
Methuen High has lost a fine lot of young adults. Don't worry, however! METHUEN'S LOSS IS THE WORLD'S GAIN!
For further information concerning the accomplishments and ambitions of this year's graduating class, please examine carefully the pages of this most renowned newspaper, The Ranger Review.

METHUEN HIGH SCHOOL
1 RANGER RD.

Features

There are many things that students are involved in. Whether it is powderpuff football, spirit week, or fashion. There are those of us who are lucky enough to be homecoming queen or be chosen to do the morning announcements. Of course, everyone takes exams and is up-to-date with the latest fads. We are all depressed on Monday, overjoyed when Friday arrives, knowing the weekend is ahead of us. The way to overcome the school-day blahs is love in the morning. There are always those few teachers who do something special for us even though they are under the threat of Prop. 2½. These are only a few of the features in the Ranger Review. Hope you'll enjoy them.

M.W.

Powderpuff Football

This year's powderpuff football game ended up with no winners and no losers. The final score was a tie, 8-8. The seniors were coached under Mr. Joe Robillard, and the underclassmen were coached by Mr. Fran Molesso. Let's see a winner next year!

J.L.

Proposition 2½

In an attempt to lower taxes, town and city officials across the state were forced to implement Proposition 2½. The basis of this policy was to cut municipal services which in turn would cut government spending and taxes. With high hopes, the taxpayers of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts passed this plan.

Unfortunately, every proposal has its drawbacks. Along with limiting public services, Proposition 2½ greatly reduced school budgets. Crowded classrooms, permanently closed schools, lost jobs, scarce supplies, and reductions in courses and extra-curricular activities are some of the ill-effects of the budget cuts today.

Although many people have experienced setbacks from Prop. 2½, students are the true sufferers. Government officials and voters looked to the possible future financial benefits of 2½, but failed to see its disadvantages to the future adults of America. Growing up today is difficult, but without proper aid and education, most kids don't have a fighting chance.

If we invest money in our children now, we will surely profit from it in the future, for they will make a richer and better America. We mustn't always be concerned with the present, but must look ahead to the approaching years. It is necessary, therefore, that the political leaders of Massachusetts re-evaluate this policy so that it will no longer disrupt our academic systems.

Exam . . . ining

For most kids, SAT means "shock and terror", but actually, the letters stand for Scholastic Aptitude Test. We all recall our first experience with this test when we were forced to roll out of bed at an ungodly hour on a Saturday morning. We had to go through a long process of filling out our name, address, school, etc. The best part was coloring in the dots with a number 2 pencil. These tests went on for 3 hours. Each student waited in anticipation for the 5 minute break after each hour so that he or she could stand and stretch his legs. There was a sigh of relief when the tests were finally over. Then the long waiting period began. We worried whether our grades were good enough because they were already being sent to the colleges of our choice.

Another grueling time for us students was when the mid-term exams crept up. Some spent hours studying in preparation for the 90 minute tests. These took 4 days. They were very important for seniors who were trying to get into colleges. Their entire futures were dependent on the results from these four days.

This was not the end of their testing days. College-bound graduates unwittingly set themselves up for more tests, number two pencils, name grids, and early hours as they go on to achieve better education from the higher institutions of America.

A student's work is never done, or to quote from another source, "There's no rest for the wicked".

Spirit

Week

Once a year, Methuen High School students display their school enthusiasm and loyalty during Spirit Week. Many students have hidden talents with respects to originality. This was obvious on Friday, Costume Day. There were seen such memorable sights as the deadly Tylenol bottle, the "unique" Go-Go's and an assortment of "questionable characters", many of whom were drawn from the ranks of the senior class. Monday was T-shirt Day, and even though we had "cold atmospheric conditions" inside the school, many students still continued to show their spirit. Next came Western Day, a day in which almost all the participation came from the girls. Besides the cowboys and cowgirls, there was even an Indian or two. Everyone came dressed appropriately for Preppy, Joc, or Hood Day, whether they tried to or not. There were a few interesting role-reversals, but most came dressed as hoods. Thursday was Favorite Pin and Hat Day. This was the calmest day, but there were some peculiar pins with unmentionable sayings. The week came to an end with Blue and White Day, and most students got involved on this day. The powderpuff football game was also planned for this day, but because of the rain, it was postponed a week. The game finally ended in a tie.

Here's Looking At You! Fashion '82-'83

The real world in fashion now is looking like you belong in your clothes. Today that's a snap, because there's an unconstructed, uncontrived ease about clothes that lets you look like you. Nothing screams fashion, everything just looks rich, real quality. Textures are beautiful, fabrics are gorgeous — and if it feels good, it looks good.

Norma Kamali is one of the proponents of this look who has introduced women to the elegant way of wearing the new geometric designs. Her use of inexpensive materials, such as cotton, tends to look casual as well as classy.

Looks receiving rave reviews at Methuen High, as well as throughout the country, are mini-skirts, that are enjoying a revival, leather and tuxedo ensembles, tailored outfits and Ralph Lauren's much acclaimed Polo collection.

Accessories are hot items ranging from larger earrings, pins and chokers to wide belts, skinny ties and even bow ties. Any of these can be inter-changed with a variety of outfits.

Menswear, as always, remains attractive and uncluttered. The best part about it is now most components can be worn by both sexes. Popular items include suspenders, hats, oversized overcoats and blazers.

Leisurewear is seen everywhere at any time of the day. Warm-ups can be functional and stylish at the same time.

All in all, fashion has taken a change for the better. Whatever your choice, everything's classy and lived-in looking at the same time . . . a very comfortable set-up.

Oh God It's Monday

You know it's Monday when:
Your alarm doesn't go off.
You don't have time to shower.
You miss the bus (or your car doesn't start).
You arrive at school after homeroom (9:10).
You have been marked absent.
It's raining, and you have a fire drill.
It's your last class, and you have an unannounced quiz.
You arrive home, drained from your miserable Monday, to find President Reagan interrupting your favorite soap.

Thank God It's Friday

You know it's Friday when:
Your alarm goes off.
You have time to take a bubble bath.
All your teachers decided to postpone your tests until Monday.
It's sunny, and you have a fire drill.
It's your last class, and you have another fire drill.
You arrive home, excited about its being Friday, to find out that your friends called to tell you that they have tickets to a concert.

Weekends Are Made . . . For Students

The thought of fun-filled weekends is often the only thing that helps students survive a grueling school year. As Friday rolls around, and the kids have taken just about all the suffering they can stand, the 1:45 bell, ringing in the weekend, suddenly revives them. Not a minute is wasted.

The weekend offers a student many options. It can be the perfect opportunity to make a few bucks, or one can sit around all weekend recuperating from the last week's ordeal and gearing himself up for that of the next week. For others, the weekend signifies the extra time needed to complete a project or term paper.

Though some may long for the weekend to arrive for these reasons, the most popular view of the weekend is one of parties, friends, and fun. These are the times which will remain with the high school students forever. Movies, athletic events, dances, and parties all become happy memories of the times which will become the best of their lives. Weekends seem to have been made with high school students in mind.

S.D.

Announcing

The everyday ritual occurs at nine o'clock sharp each morning. All of us are asked to pause for a moment of silence, which is then followed by the saluting of the flag. The seemingly needless announcements wrap up our stay in homeroom. The reason that these announcements seem to have no purpose is because they are barely audible over the din of voices. It seems, however, that it becomes relatively quieter when the list of "naughty ones" are announced over the PA. All guilty ones cringe in their seats, hoping their "crimes" will go unnoticed and a trip to Mr. Nicholson will not be necessary.

Announcements that occasionally occur during a class have one of two effects on each of their listeners. On the one hand, teachers become quite perturbed when their classes are so rudely interrupted; whereas, students are grateful for the diversion from the endless lectures of their teachers.

Afternoon announcements are considered to be the high point of a student's day. Not only do they inform each and every one of us concerning pertinent information about school life, but they also signify the end of another day at MHS.

F.C.

Love In The Morning

I remember a story that a teacher was telling me about when he went to school. The teachers and students were shocked to see a couple kiss in the halls. They didn't know what to make of it. Back then, of course, it wasn't proper to do such a thing. There's a time and place for everything. At least, there was.

Today, teenagers are more open in expressing their feelings to each other. It's not so much a shock anymore to see a couple kissing in the halls. It's seen as a sign of affection. So when's a better time to show affection than in between classes. Times have indeed changed.

Homecoming '82

Carin Allen

Sandy Novak

Betty Latulippe

The Homecoming Queen was crowned on November 6th at Nicholson Stadium during half-time at the Methuen — Central Catholic football game. Chosen was Sandy Novak, attended by Carin Allen and Betty Latulippe, who tied for 1st runner-up. The girls were presented with bouquets by the quad-captains of the football team and held court at the game which was won by Methuen, ending in a score of 7-6.

N.B.

Dedication

The Class of 1983 has chosen two faculty members for their dedication to both the academic and extra-curricular life of Methuen High School.

Their sincerity as teachers and their interest in the graduates' goals have helped the students grow into mature young adults. These deeply respected persons have been guiding, consoling, and inspiring figures to many students who have passed through the doors of Methuen High in recent years.

So that the entire class may show its gratitude for the consideration and patience they have shown, we, the editors of the Ranger Review, have been asked to dedicate this edition to Mr. David Whiting and Mrs. Ann Marie Krusell.

"Don't you guys love English?"

ADMINISTRATION

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to all of the faculty members who have shared an abiding interest in the growth of young people and a willingness to become directly involved in that process. Methuen teachers have been accessible to students in athletic endeavors and extracurricular activities, as well as in academics. We hope that your experiences here have been rewarding and pleasurable moments for you, and we hope you will have the knowledge that you have contributed something to the Seniors of 1983 and that your work will not be forgotten.

Freshmen

Show a Methuen High upperclassman a nervous kid with a Mead Trapper Keeper, an Erasermate, and a map of the school, and he'll show you the typical freshman. Everyone is able to pick a freshman out of a crowd, even the freshmen themselves. They are not well-known for being nondescript.

Methuen High freshmen are the ones who eat anything in the cafeteria because they don't know any better. Their lower lips quiver when they are told to report to office detention. At least one incoming freshman asks what floor the swimming pool is on. Freshmen must look up their combinations every time they go to their lockers, and most of them carry twelve books to every class. When Friday arrives, freshmen sigh with relief and the thought that the Methuen Mall is "a great place to be".

For one year, the seniors are in their glory. The deem themselves far superior to the underclassmen, especially the freshmen. They look upon their freshman year with disbelief, saying they couldn't have behaved in such a manner. For most of the seniors however, the tide will turn once again. They will be low men on the totem pole when they enter college. They'll eventually move up the ladder again, but before they do, they'll be the ones calling attention to themselves with maps, notebooks, and misplaced dorm keys. I hope they enjoy their senior year of high school while they can.

What can you say about sophomore year? It is a year of familiarity and change. The rooms are the same, just as are many of the faces. The teachers are the same, but now there is a class lower on the ladder. You are no longer a measly freshman at the bottom of the ladder. You have moved up a step, a small one, but none-the-less a step towards graduation.

There are new classes and new teachers, but still many of the same students as you pass through the halls. It is a year of new activities. Maybe you will become a member of the Honor Society. There is always a sports team you can join, or perhaps there will be a part in the Senate for you, or the role as a class officer. There is always something to do to make the year memorable.

The highlight of the sophomore year has to be the receiving of your high school ring. Finally, you have something that says you belong to M.H.S. You put time and care into the choosing of your ring because it will be with you all of your life. You want it to be special and unique. Many different things make up your sophomore year: friends, teachers, studies, sports, clubs, etc. All these make up your only year as a high school sophomore.

The Junior Year

The junior year is the year when you become an upperclassman, even though you're not classified as such in the powderpuff football game. You can now push around the Freshman and Sophomores and gain some respect from the Seniors. Probably the biggest change to occur is when you obtain your driver's license. You no longer have to depend on your parents and friends to take you where you want to go. Another change that might occur is the moving up from Junior Varsity sports to Varsity sports. This is when it becomes valuable to win, and you finally are awarded the recognition that you feel was long deserved. As the year rolls on, and the Seniors get ready for college, you start to feel more important. Next comes the Junior Prom. It seems as if the whole school is getting ready and talking about the prom, even though it is only the juniors who care. The end of the junior year marks the time of two important events: the dreaded SAT's and the long awaited beach days.

NEWSMAKERS

For the graduates of Methuen High School, the last four years have brought great changes, not only in their lifestyles, but also in their basic attitudes and their understanding of life itself. Behind a pen, over a book, on the gridiron, or in the field house, these graduates have been drilling for the great maneuver of life. Their high school years prepared them in mind and character to take their places in the outside world. For some, these years may be compared with the changing seasons.

Freshman year is analogous with spring because it is a new beginning. When today's graduates entered Methuen High, it was merely a strange place full of new faces and new experiences. Through the times spent there, they grew along with it, and Methuen High eventually became a very special place to them. They had found a place to test themselves; intellectually, socially, and emotionally.

Sophomore year, a year in which students grow and prosper, is like summer. For this year's graduates new faces became lasting friendships and experiences became memories. They had had times they will always remember; those times filled with friends, parties, and challenges.

Fall, a season marked by change, may be compared with junior year, which is one of shedding of the old and preparing for the new. Methuen's graduates realized their number of carefree days was limited, and they had to make a decision regarding their futures.

The senior year, winter, is the completion of the cycle. It is the final act of a long growing and learning process in preparation for life in the real world. As the land sheds its blanket of snow at winter's end, so the graduates slipped out of a very important phase of life. They will see a new life before them, just as winter sees the coming of spring, and the cycle begins again.

In the following pages of the Ranger Review 1983, you are invited to become acquainted with these young graduates of Methuen High School, to share their memories, and to admire their goals. In conclusion, I would like to extend my sincere congratulations to the members of the Class of 1983 upon the occasion of your graduation.

In Memory of Michael Sapia

As time goes by, we often think of the friendship that we shared.
Schooldays, weekends, any time
We always really cared.
The good times and the bad
Mike was there to see them through.
Now we often sit and wonder . . .
It can't be, It's not true!
He'll always be remembered
Family, fans, and friends,
We all shared a love for him
Even more so at this bend.
The road of life never ceases to surprise
We must go on, let's dry our eyes.
If he were here today,
I'm sure we'd want him to know
Of the love and respect we hold for him
It was hard to let him go.
So as the time goes by, we will often think
Of the friendship that we shared
and the memory we have to keep.

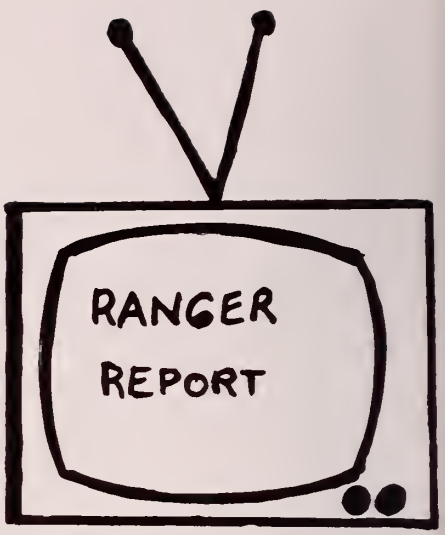
Focus



The students at Methuen High did not go to school just to learn, read, and do homework, for they had other things on which they could "focus". There was even some excitement put into those monotonous school days. Whether it be a false alarm interrupting the last period of the day, a daily weather report concerning the "atmospheric conditions" coming over the P.A., or the infamous setting-of-lockers-on-fire, there was always something of interest that kept the students aware of what was going on around school. They were even allowed to state their opinions about the school. Some students spent their time running Ranger Report, preparing for such programs as Sports Tuesday and special interviews. Others kept busy working in the school store under the Distributive Education program, while some took their time to help out with the two Bloodmobiles. Some students focused their time on being members of the Marching Band or the senior class play, "Cheaper by the Dozen". Many students were also a part of the work study or academic internship programs, while others were performers for the chorus. As you start to turn the pages of the Focus section, you will see just what the students of M.H.S. "focused" on in order to keep themselves busy. Of course, all this would occur after their studies.

Don't Worry It's Not A Fire!

Sitting in class, I wonder when the next one will be, that sudden fire alarm that has become a daily ritual at Methuen High School. The once spontaneous reaction to these alarms has changed to one of amusement. Here we go again, another alarm! As I gladly start to leave the classroom, I wait for some friends, and we begin our daily stroll around the school. There is no confusion outside because we seem to spend almost as much time outside as we do in the classrooms. We wait for the fire trucks to arrive so we can ridicule them for wasting their time answering the alarm. During the cold winter months, for some unexplained reason, these fire drills seem to come to an abrupt halt. If and when we do have a winter drill, though, be sure not to be standing on the path in front of the teachers' entrance, or you will be sure to be caught in the middle of a massive snowball fight. As we wait for the three short blasts of the fire alarm to signal the end of this ten minute "vacation", we cheerfully say to our friends, "See you at the next fire drill", and slowly begin to file into school and wait for the announcement on the intercom to tell us to what period we are to report.

____This school has rotten color coordination, fake windows, and no air, but it's been fun.

____If the students thought more about school and less about what category they fit under, then this would be a more pleasant place to be.

____Our bus drivers shouldn't let kids smoke on the bus. I don't enjoy smelling like "essence of Marlborough" when I get off the bus.

____Homework is a bore. School is a bore. Detention is a bore. I'm bored.

____I think that Proposition 2½ has ruined our school. When your art teacher is teaching English, your Spanish teacher is teaching History, and your Math teacher doesn't know what he is teaching, you know you're in trouble!

____There should be a smoking section for smokers so we can use the bathrooms for bathrooms.

____The only thing that I don't like about this school is that a lot of the teachers pick favorites by choosing those that are smarter and more popular than others. Once you are labelled by the teacher, you usually always remain that way throughout the year. I also think we should have more activities either during the day or more concerts and such during the weekends.

____I think we should have had a smoking room for the smokers and a non-smoking room for the non-smokers. Then there wouldn't be all those cigarettes in the bathroom, and the bathroom wouldn't be a mess. At least make it a senior privilege. It wouldn't hurt to give it a shot!!!

____I hope by the time my kids get here there will be some walls.

____You shouldn't have to listen to foreign language teachers while you are studying MATH.

____I think we should be able to wear coats and hats in school, especially when they don't bother to put the heat on!

____We should have more concerts, assemblies, activities, etc. to take our minds off our classwork. After twelve years, everyone needs a rest.

___Our high school years are the best and maybe the most important years of our lives, so don't blow it.

___The best four years of my life.

___The open concept of our classrooms is definitely not advantageous to learning, you can't hear yourself think, all the teachers are teaching at the same time. Windows could provide fresh air in the school, instead of the thick, over-used air in here.

___It seems like only yesterday that we arrived at this huge dwelling that we now know as our second home. We all complain and wish for the day we graduate, but the truth is we will all miss the good times and special friends this school has brought us. Thank you Methuen High, for these four years.

___They should do away with those "beeps" to call Mr. Dolloff and the custodians, etc. They are very annoying.

___The part of school that I enjoyed most was making some long-lasting friendships.

___They should not close the lunch lines during lunch, so if we're still hungry we can get food instead of junk. They should divide the food up so if you have 3rd lunch, you can still get a variety. Kids should have more school spirit and support teams and other school activities.

___They shouldn't have the bathrooms locked at any time.

Put walls up.

___I wish people would stop setting off the fire alarms.

LIGHTS! CAMERA! ACTION! These are the famous words of the cast and crew of "Ranger Report", Methuen High School's own student-run telecast, aired every Wednesday night on Cable 27. The program started back in 1980 with the talents of Dan Bishop, then a sophomore at Methuen High School, Patt Moser, media specialist and faculty advisor from the media center. Since then the show has grown and gained popularity, as well as cast members. The cast now includes Dan Bishop, anchorman, Al Daneau, David Habeeb, John Makus, Bill Robert, and Steve Sanderson. They also have a new advisor — Ken Hoffman. These people put a tremendous amount of time into the program. They come up with all of the story ideas, do all of the interviewing, and edit all of the stories. In effect, they do all of the work.

In the past, the Ranger Report crew has come up with such stories as: interviews with David Toma, Willie Whistle, Charles Laquidara from WBCN, and Ted O'Brien from Channel 7. They have covered school events such as Ranger Spirit week, the Senior Class Play, and other school functions. They also cover all of the games for Sports Tuesday.

They haven't won any Emmies yet, but I'm sure that if they keep up the spectacular work, the Nielsans will surely notice.

The Methuen High School Chorus has grown bigger and better in the past few years. It has gone from a small group of twelve to the full, resounding sound of today's chorus. The chorus has also branched out the past two years into two more small groups, the "Arrangers" and the "Harmonettes".

The "Arrangers" are a group of talented students who enjoy singing and dancing. This swinging choir made its debut in the first annual M.H.S. variety show performing the number "Walk On Down". They're a talented group with a lot of enthusiasm for performing.

The "Harmonettes" is another small group in the performing arts department. This is a barbershop trio which performs old classics with a three-part harmony barbershop flare. They delight their audiences with their melodic sound.

These small groups may not be appreciated in M.H.S., but look out Hollywood, here they come!

It's Not Just A Job, It's An Adventure

The time is 1130 when this battallion of students march voluntarily to their battlefields of the surrounding areas. These battlefields are their places of employment or education. It is by joining academic internship, headed by General Salmonsohn, or by signing up for work-study (General Murphy), that these students have the right to further their future plans. Many students become envious, and, some even jealous, of these lonely soldiers of fortune, but through determination, they fight this sea of insults in order to observe a profession or receive "hands on" training. Through the leadership of General Salmonsohn, the academic internship program, bat. #01589, sends students on into places of interest in order to observe and experience the reality of each profession. Through the comradery of General Murphy, bat. #01588, the work-study program helps interested students leave school and experience the rigors of life. It is through this sight of reality that the Academic Internship and Work-Study programs thrive. Each participant can be proud and hold his head high as he states, "It's not just a job, it's an adventure."

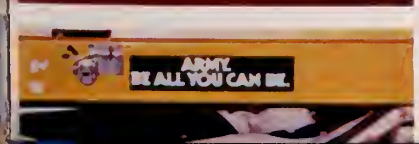
To Be or Not To Be Comfortable

New England has always been known for its fluctuating weather but this year the temperature inside Methuen High School seemed to change more frequently than did the temperature outside. One snowy, windy December day high school students found themselves preparing for early dismissal because of "unfavorable atmospheric conditions", in other words, it was 80° inside the school. A stranger to the school might suggest opening a few windows in order to cool the school, but one must remember that M.H.S. has windows which do not open. Yet, the next day it seemed as if we were undergoing energy conservation since the heat didn't seem to be on. Engineers were called in who set about using their fancy tools to inform us that there was something wrong with the air in the school. This was a conclusion which came as no surprise. Something which did come as a surprise, though was when, for some unexplainable reason, the water system broke and again students prepared for early dismissal. After months of this intolerable weather, most students survived the sometimes unbearable conditions with only minor discomforts such as headaches, bloodshot eyes, and an occasional case of the chills. "To be or not to be comfortable" remains an interesting question.

G.N.

The Inside Story



Who would have ever guessed that there could be so many of these stalking creatures under one roof? Their long, slender bodies of red and yellow, along with the repeatedly forgotten combinations, are a constant part of the student life.

Lockers are like mouths, opening and closing continuously, some overflowing with knowledge, some just full of garbage.

Lockers of knowledge are the ones filled with books. Then there are the lockers with the "essentials": jackets, hats, gym attire, and writing utensils. Representing the individual owner are the stickers of hobbies, rock groups, teams, rainbows, and of course, love. Magnets, notes, graffiti (both inside and out). All add interesting detail. Quite often found in others are the misplaced passes, forgotten lunches, tasteless pieces of gum, and lost book covers . . . garbage?

Lockers have also been known for their great support of walls, and high school lovers. Some of the greatest rendezvous occur at "the lockers".

It is not possible to imagine this building without its lockers. How empty it would be . . . what if they could talk?

"It Makes Cents"

The Distributive Education Club of America is a student-centered organization which promotes leadership and personal development. This program enables students to go out and find good jobs on their own. Through their jobs they learn how to make decisions and become more responsible. During the school day, these students are encouraged to work in the school store, and it is here that they learn marketing skills such as advertising, display and sales techniques. This experience prepares the students for competition. This competition is conducted on the regional, state, and national level giving the Distributive Education student the opportunity to travel around the nation and meet new people in the fields of marketing and distribution. Yearly, scholarships are given out by Mr. Pilat, the Distributive Education advisor, to Distributive Education students to further their education.

It Takes All Types

In November and May, the senior class held its biennial blood donor drives. Blood was donated by students and faculty alike, and the number of people who turned out for these events reflects how successful this year's drives were. Sixty-four pints were collected in November, and seventy-six in May.

The donation center, the field house, was open from early morning to mid-afternoon, but those responsible for organizing the drive worked many more hours than scheduled. Much of this credit must be extended to Senior class volunteers, who were noticeably present the entire day waiting on and assisting donors.

Some first time donors were a little squeamish, but most people overcame their initial fear and the entire day went off without a hitch. Once again, for the success of the blood drive, a special thanks is extended to the donors, volunteers, senior class members, and Mr. David Whiting, senior class advisor.

The Methuen High School Marching Band performs for all football games as well as performing competitively in state competitions. This year Methuen placed 1st in the Norwood Competition, 2nd in Sommerville, and 4th in the State Competition. As well as competing in Mass., the M.H.S. Band traveled to Florida and received outstanding ratings against bands from the mid West and South.

The Spirit of Christmas

Of all the old festivals, however, that of Christmas awakens the strongest and most heartfelt associations. There is a tone of solemn and sacred feeling that blends with our conviviality, and lifts the spirit to a state of hallowed and elevated enjoyment.

— Washington Irving

Christmas remains the most treasured day of the year — a time of love and celebration to share with family and friends. Everywhere there is some form of feasting and song, and the warmth inherent in the Christmas season is shared by all. Everywhere — for at least this special day — peace and goodwill prevail among men and among students.

Let's Get Physical

No, this article is not about Olivia Newton-John's hit single "Let's Get Physical", but it is about the fitness craze which has taken America and Methuen High School by storm.

Fitness isn't just tennis and team sports anymore. Getting "physical" entails much more than these. It takes all kinds from aerobics and nautilus to weightlifting and jogging. Aerobics has become a very popular form of exercise. Thanks to Jane Fonda's and Richard Simmon's workout albums and diet books plus Jane's workout center and Richard's television program, everyone has gotten into the act. Thanks also goes to Diana Ross for her aerobics album, which include her hit singles "Muscles" and "Work Your Body".

Men and women are building up in their basic sports gear, that includes such items as sweats, T-shirts, tanks, headbands, leg warmers and sneakers and are jazzing them up with whites and slick accessories. We'll call it a form of "Jock-Chic", if you will.

My conclusion: Exercise is one of the biggest energy boosters around. It gives you a sense of discipline and self-confidence. As I said, exercise is energy and energy is a state of body and a state of mind.

St. Patrick's Day

St. Patrick's Day is an Irish holiday. But, is it just for the Irish? Most certainly not! On that particular day of the year, everybody is Irish. This was quite evident in the high school on St. Patrick's Day, 1983. Many students made a conscious attempt at wearing a green outfit, even to the extent of purchasing green carnations and wearing green hats. Even some of the teachers got into the act. They also wore the Irish green and possessed the lively spirit of the Irish. All in all, St. Patrick's Day, 1983 proved to be a well-supported holiday.

Sweeping Them Off Their Feet

The girls field hockey team did extremely well finishing in third place in the MVC with an 8-3-3 record and an overall record of 8-3-5. Colleen Cox and Sue Wante were named to the MVC All-Conference Team. Dawn Vinciguerra, Sandy Novak, and Bev Brien were all named to the second MVC All-Conference Team.

We look forward to another successful season next year.

Heads Up

The Varsity Soccer team had a successful year, finishing with a record of 8-6-4. The team was led by captains Rob Muise and Scott Slomba. The Senior class was represented by Mike Barry, Rick Rousseau, Mike Bolduc, Chucky Lima and Dave Karam.

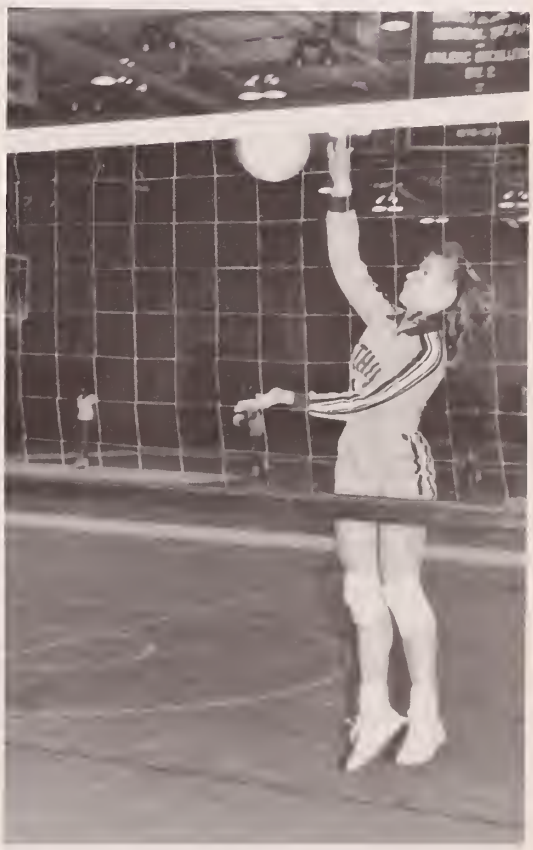
Servin' It Up

The 1982 Methuen High School Girl's Volleyball Team was both gratifying and at the same time frustrating. The team began its 14-4 record with a come from behind victory which snapped defending state champion Chelmsford forty match winning streak. In addition, the Rangers were able to defeat eventual league champion Billerica in both regular season matches. The frustration was supplied by a much improved Dracut team and single losses to Tewksbury and our second match loss to Chelmsford.

The season did provide its rewards with a second place finish and a state tournament berth which resulted in a first round loss.

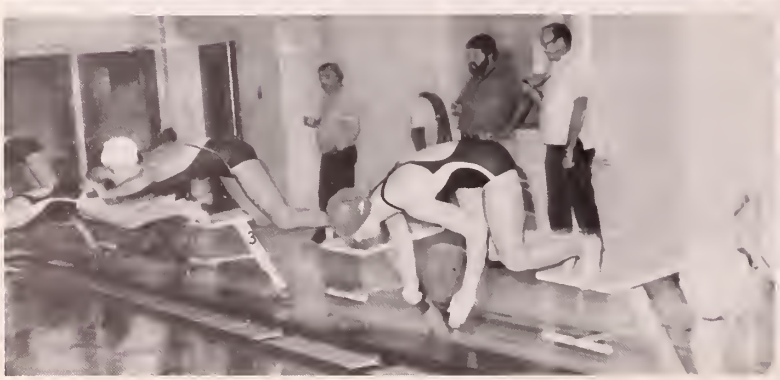
Two players, Alicia Collopy and Julie Leonard, were selected to the first team of the Coaches All-League All-Stars. In addition, Monica Baker was named to the second team and Michelle Jozokos was given Honorable Mention. Other Senior members were Mary Ann Mistal, Lisa Deschamp and Roberta Rosmarino.

In all, a successful season was produced by a lot of hard work and dedication.



Making a Splash

The Methuen Girls Swim Team finished a tough season with a 4-0-5 record. Working hard for the team were Kara Nightengale and Diane Fryer. The team gained twenty newcomers, making the season all the more difficult. The girls will be off to a good start next year. Although they are losing senior Leora Olefirowicz and senior co-captains Doreen O'Donohue and Lisa Morin, the girls won't give up.

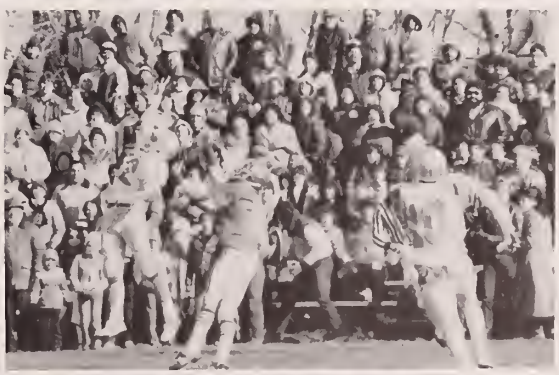


Hip, Hip, Hooray!

This year's cheerleading squad was lead by co-captains Dina Savastano and Maura Fitz-Gerald. Other seniors included Lisa Sheafer, Sue-Ellen Boucher, Jenny Phelps and Lori MacLeod.

The Champions

The football team provided the students and community with a fantastic 9-0-1 season. Methuen defeated Lowell 14-12 under the lights at Lowell in what was considered one of the finest football games ever witnessed in this area. Several players who made the All-League and Eagle-Tribune All-Star Team included: Tom Laliberty, Erick Kuchar, John Motta, Mike O'Connell, Scott Bleczinski, Dave Colizzi, Jim Mellor, Barry Tardugno, and Mike Shipulski. Tim Getchell was selected to the Boston Globe All-Scholastic Team as a linebacker. The seniors were involved in thirty-four wins, two ties, and four losses. They were defeated by less than one touchdown in all games lost. The seniors won two M.V.C. titles and missed the third by a single point — a fitting end to a great career.



The Road Runners

The Boys Varsity Cross Country team had an interesting season because it's the first time in 10 years that the boys had a losing record of 4-6. The team was led by Captain Jim Donahue, who was undefeated in dual meets, and was elected to the Boston Globe All-Scholastic All Star Team. He also qualified for the Junior Olympic T.A.C. National Championship for the fourth year in a row, and won the Catholic Memorial Invitational Meet, Division 2, in a record winning time, and finally broke the Methuen home course record with a time of 13:19.5 Other senior runners included Tim Vermette, Tony Quaglietta, Paul Bergeron, Tom Vermette and Mike Hillard. Next year looks promising with three time M.V.C. all-star Chris Cameron returning.

On The Road Again

The 1982 Girls Cross Country season was not as successful as it has been in the past. Part of the reason for the team's 4-4 record in the M.V.C. was due to the fact the league has become much more balanced than in the past. The team was ably led by Senior Co-captains Ellen Gray and Christine Dizoglio. Individually Christine had a fine year being defeated only three times in dual meets, placing 6th in the Div. I State Meet and qualifying for National's in the T.A.C. Junior Olympic competition. Christine was also chosen as an M.V.C. All Star for the third year in a row.

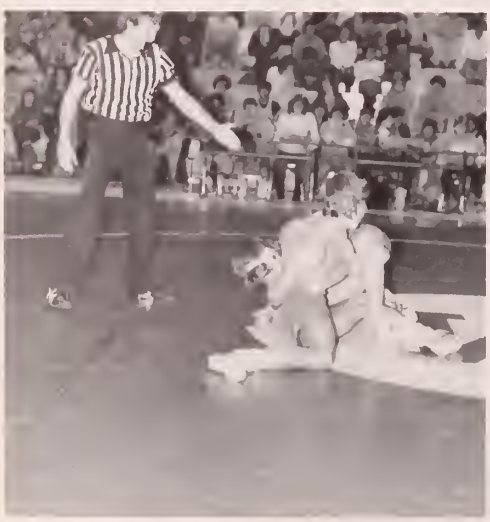
Take Down

The 1982-83 wrestling team moved a few steps closer to the top of Massachusetts wrestling by finishing 6th (out of 18 schools) in the Division I North Sectional Tournament and 13th in the Division I State Tournament. Both of these tournament placings were the best yet for a Methuen wrestling team.

In all, six wrestlers qualified for the state tournament. Co-capt. Mike Bolduc placed 6th at 107 lbs. David Kraunelis was 4th at 114 lbs. Mark Jozokos was 6th at 187 lbs. Eric Boes (100 lbs), Dan McCarthy (121 lbs.), and John Saba (169 lbs.) competed at the "states" but didn't place.

In dual meets the wrestlers led by Mike Bolduc and fellow co-capt. Brian Boes were 9-5. The 5 losses were to teams who all finished in the top 5 in their state tournaments.

With 9 out of 12 starters returning the outlook continues to look bright for Methuen High wrestling.



Taking It To The Hoop

The Ranger Varsity Basketball team, under new head coach Bucky Tardiff, had a very productive year despite its 5-13 record. Leading the team were co-captains Chris Morse and Mike O'Connell and seniors Doug Rademacher, Bruce Ratcliffe, John Perreault, Gary Poulin, and Dave Skelly.

Dribbling Down

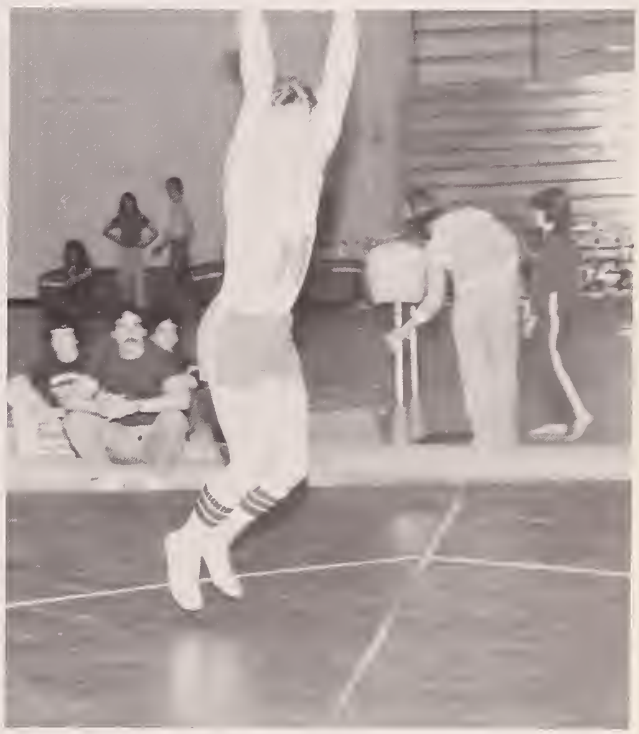
the Court

The team finished the season with a 14-4 record, winning the Pelham Christmas tournament and finishing second in the league. The team qualified for the state tournament. Captains Peg Donovan and Sue Wante were also the team's all-star representatives. Other seniors were Colleen Cox, Dawn Vinciguerra, Josephine Palmisano and JoAnn L'Italien.

All Split Up

The Girls Gymnastics team finished the season with a 3-3 league record for 4th place in the M.V.C., and an overall record of 5-6. Senior co-captains Cheryl Sprague (all around) and Sandy Novak had outstanding seasons, and performed well in the league meet. Freshmen Kelly Marceau and Lauren Pothier competed like experienced veterans. Sophomores Darlene LaPlante and Liz Perrault each had a great year. We look forward to future seasons, but we'll miss our seniors.

Hanging in There



The Boys Gymnastic team finished up with a 4 and 2 record, second place in the North Shore Gymnastic league and 7th place in the State. League Individual Champions were Steve Bissonette; 2nd in the All Around, 6th on side horse, 3rd on parallel bars, 1st on vaulting and 5th on rings. Andy Vermette placed 2nd on the rings and parallel bars. In the State Individuals, Andy Vermette placed 5th on rings and 10th on parallel bars and Steve Bissonette placed 8th on vaulting. These two boys are the first from Methuen to ever place in the Finals. The seniors on the team included Jimmy Lorenzo, John Palumbo, Steve Bissonette, and Jamie Comerford.

Breaking the Ice

The young Methuen High hockey team finished its season with a 6-8-5 record. The team was led by captains John Motta and Chucky Lima. Other seniors on the team included John Bradley, Mike Marcoux, Bob Donald, Scott Slomba, and Brian Letourneau — all of which demonstrated a very good attitude throughout the season.

It's All Downhill From Here

This year's Methuen High School ski team was led by senior captain Tom Reagan and junior captains Kris Topham, Rob Brown, and Erin Comerford. Included in the nearly forty competitors were seniors Doug Brandin, David Riel, Laura Santosuosso, and Kim Avery. Coaching the boys and girls teams were Mr. Norm Comeau and Mrs. Marion Girardi. Thanks to these fine coaches, the team had many fine performances at Bradford Ski Area.

A Clean Sweep

This year's Boys indoor track team was one of Methuen's finest teams ever. This extremely successful season saw memorable victories at the Methuen Invitational, M.V.C. League Meet, Northern Area Meet and State Class B Meet. Along with these laurels was the undefeated dual meet season and thus the dual meet championship. The team had the State Class B relay championship in the shot-put: Dave Colizzi, Tom Laliberty, and Rob Marggraf — and the shuttle hurdles: Dan Martin, Scott Bleczinski, Mike Barry, and Jeff Baker. New school records were made by Mike Barry and Dan Martin in the high jump, Dan Martin and Jeff Baker in the hurdles, and Jim Donahue in the two mile. The two mile relay, Jim Donahue, Chris Cameron, Mike Hillard and Tim Vermette, also set a new field house record. Other seniors who shall be missed are Paul Bergeron, Allen Firth, Fred Habib, Fred Iannuccilli, Tony Quaglietta and Mike Shipulski. This season is one that shall be remembered in the years to come.

Runners Take Your Mark

The girls winter track season ended in a surprising 5-2 record, with surprise victories over many competitive teams. Thanks to five great seniors — Monica Baker, Colleen Bleczinski, Ellen Murdock, Chris Dizoglio, and Roberta Rosemarino.

C.B.

Hit or Miss

The Varsity Softball Team finished the season at 10-5. Senior members included Sandy Novak, Dawn Vincinguerra, Joann L'Italien, Karen Toto and Jo Palmisano. Jo Palmisano made the conference All-Star team and was nominated for the Boston Globe All-Scholastic team. Sandy Novak and Theresa Padvaskas made honorable mention for the conference All-Stars.

C.B.

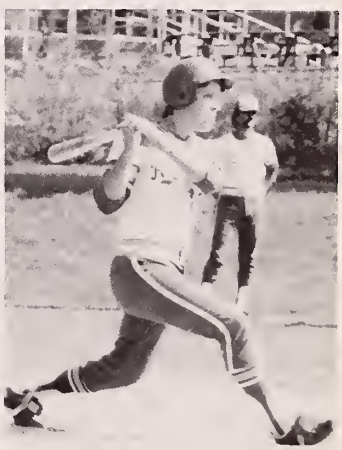
Teed Off

The 1983 golf season record ended at 3-9. The team was young and inexperienced, therefore, the season would have to be considered a rebuilding year because of the loss of four, three year letter winners.

This year gave the young players a chance to gain valuable experience. Next year looks quite optimistic, and with hard work, the young players will develop into fine golfers. The team roster consisted of seniors Keith Gagnon, Joe Fisichelli, and Mike Marcoux. Other team members included Peter Filocamo, Jeff Gerardi, Mark Zraket, Ken Hewson, Peter Nicolosi, Sal Piazza, and Dave Richardson.

Making a Hit

It was a very frustrating season for the varsity baseball team, since eight of the ten league losses could have gone either way. Six of those losses were by one run. Even though it was a tough season, the team's spirit continued through the end. Mike Shipulski and Rob Muise were the co-captains of the team, with Mike Shipulski being voted to the All-Conference team.



Clearing All Hurdles

The girls track team finished the 1983 spring season with a 4-5 record. The season was disappointing and rewarding at the same time; disappointing because of the effect a rash of injuries had on the outcome of the season and rewarding because of the great individual efforts made by the girls and their "never quit" attitude. This team was led by the greatest group of seniors the team has ever had.

Running To Victory

This years Boys Outdoor track team continued their winning ways with a successful 6-1 dual meet record. The only loss that blemished this record was against arch-rival Andover in one of the most exciting track meets ever. Despite this loss, the seniors of this year's team can be proud to have upheld the prestigious track tradition at Methuen High School.

S.B.

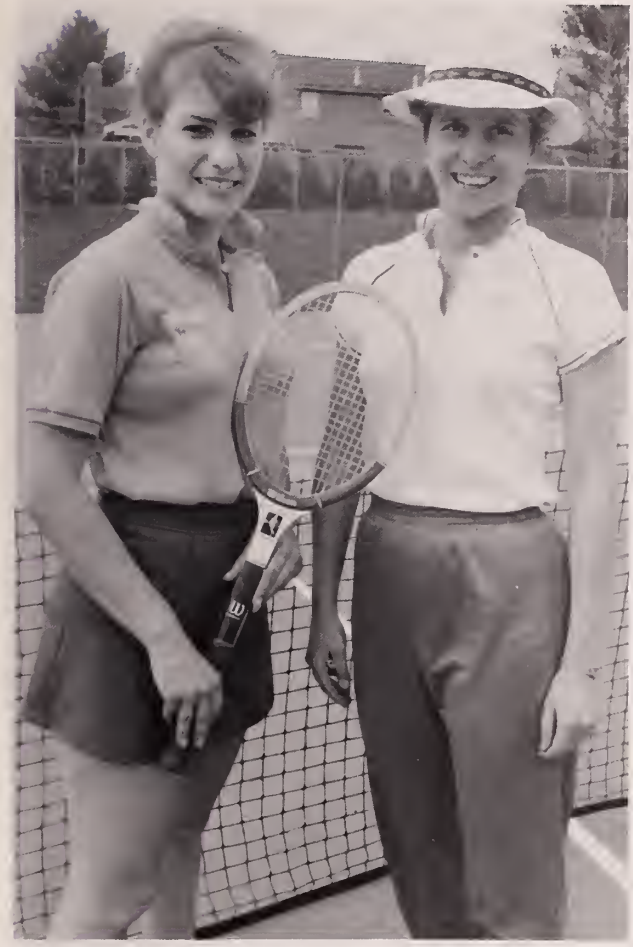
Matchpoint

The 1983 boy's tennis team finished the season with a 5-13 record, placing sixth in the ten team Merrimack Valley Conference.

Despite this rather disappointing record, there were a number of significant achievements. Glen Grillo, a junior, was the most consistent player on the team. Glen finished with a 15-1 record during league play, and advanced to the North Sectional Semi-finals in the State Individual Tournament. Glen was recognized for his outstanding play by his selection to the conference All Star team.

Senior Peter Sergi also compiled an impressive record of 12-4 at first singles and advanced through three rounds during the state tournament.

Game . . . Set . . . Match



The girl's tennis team experienced another successful season with a 13-7 record. Senior captain Maryann Mistal had an outstanding record at second singles with many exciting three set matches. Senior doubles players Cheryl Sprague, Alicia Collopy, and Lisa Sheafer had many tough matches, but played great for the Rangers.

Good luck next year, Mary!

Sports Night

Athletes of M.H.S. gather three times a year to be honored at the season's Sports Banquet. Each team honors its individual star athletes with such awards as Most Valuable Player, the Coach's Award, and Most Improved Player. At the close of the spring season special awards such as the John Hannigan Award, the Dorothy Chadwick Award, and the Sportsmanship Award, are given by the Methuen Ranger Athletic Association. Also special scholarships, such as the Methuen Ten-Mile Race Scholarships and the Thomas Decubellis Memorial Scholarship, are given to outstanding track athletes. Congratulations to these graduating senior athletes.

Social Scene

What is the student body interested in? Do they like trying their hands at computers or spending time writing articles and taking pictures? Some are interested in making it on Broadway, so they are perfecting their singing, dancing, and acting skills. One can practice becoming a politician or a musician or even a television anchorman. Many spend time at work, while others voice their complaints to the School Committee. A few organizations were established to reward the student who succeeds scholastically. The high school even offers organized bowling and skating clubs. Explore the Social Scene section of the Ranger Review and see how the student body of M.H.S. is spending its time.

What are class officers? They are an elected, four-member group who raise money for their class. Every class has them. The money that they raise is for the expenses of their Senior Year. These expenses include caps and gowns, the senior prom, class day, awards night, and graduation. As one can tell, these four people are very important to one's high school years.

We, as editors of Ranger Review, found it necessary to write this article in order to enlighten fellow graduates on the work necessary to create a yearbook.

One may think that the yearbook staff simply dove into its endeavors without any knowledge or experience. This is far from the fact! A representative few attended seminars in order to learn "the tricks of the trade". They, along with their advisor, Mrs. Krusell, and Mr. Garon, a representative from Hunter Publishing Company, taught the remainder of the staff those needed procedures. Much time and energy went into our learning the essentials, but like everything, experience was needed.

A newspaper format was selected by the staff. It was then time to begin the main part of the book. Many hours were spent in order to complete the book. It was extremely difficult because we all did not have a study together.

There were many problems that did arise during the course of the year. Students complained that we were showing favoritism in our choice of pictures. Also, we had numerous problems with photography. Arrival of pictures never seemed to be on time. To top it all off, we were kicked out of the teacher's room where our desk was located. We did not have any access to the typewriters. There were many other problems which are too numerous to mention.

Despite the many problems, the year was successful. Hopefully, our finished product, the '83 yearbook, is evidence of this.

STUDENT ADVISORY COUNCIL

Who runs Methuen High's activities? The answer is "The Student Senate". They have meetings every Tuesday after school to decide when, where, and why some activity is going to take place. This organization arranges times for every fund raiser that takes place in Methuen High.

The members of the "Student Advisory Committee" attend the School Committee meetings to bring forth ideas to the school committee members. These issues concern Methuen High's students. At times they are adopted and at other times they are vetoed, but at least the student body is aware of the events going on at M.H.S.

Although most people think of the National Honor Society as a "Smart Club," it really is not. It is true that to become a member, one must possess a high academic average, but one must also have strength in character, service, and leadership. National Honor Society members perform many different services ranging from tutoring students to holding bake sales during mid-terms and finals. The National Honor Society is an organization that rewards the well-rounded student, but a member is required to spend many hours helping fellow students.

This is the first year Methuen High School has had an International Club, but it is already one of the school's largest organizations. In order to become a member, one must be enrolled in a foreign language course. During the year, the International Club has taken many field trips to see cultural plays and has even spent a few days in New York City.

The Figure Skating Club at Methuen High is an extra-curricular activity that anyone can join. The people who join love to skate. Every week they have "ice time" when they are allowed to use the M.H.S. ice rink. The members practice their jumps and leaps. The highlight of their ice skating year is the annual presentation of their ice pageant at the end of the winter season.

BOWLING LEAGUE

READY? ..... SET?

The Bowling League is another of M.H.S.'s extra-curricular activities. The members bowl at Academy Lanes in Bradford. They hold tournaments, and it is a very special part of the member's high school years.

DANCE COMPANY

Like to dance? If so, join the Methuen High Dance Company. It has grown a lot in the past years. Come and show your dancing skills. There are even a few shows during the year so you can display your skills. Another good aspect of this organization is the exercise that is provided by all of the dancing. It is definitely a plus for Methuen.

The Concert Band is a group of musicians who practice every day during school and once a week after school. Most students who are involved in the band started in freshman year and continued until senior year. This year the band performed in three formal concerts. The concert band along with the marching and jazz bands spent a week in Florida as a reward for their hard work.

Lifestyle

There were certain special activities that went on during our last year at Methuen High that were an important part of high school life. It all actually started junior year with the semi-formal at DiBurro's. We all had anxiously awaited our own first prom. The activities of our senior year started off with the Foreign Language Department's inductions of the Spanish and French Honor Society. Students then were given a chance to reveal their talents at Methuen's first annual variety show. During the various vacations during the school year, many went off to seaside resorts and to some of the beautiful countries of Europe. The Dance Company also held its annual successful show at the high school. Many students were then awarded for their scholastic achievement in each subject at Awards Night. Approximately seventy students were also recognized for their high academics at the Honors Banquet. The school year was finally over, and everyone celebrated at the senior prom held at the Sheraton Rolling Green Inn. On June 5, 1983, it was officially over. It was graduation day, and classmates shed a few tears and shared a few hugs, sadly saying good-bye. Take a look at the Lifestyle section and be reminded of how the "life" at Methuen High actually was.

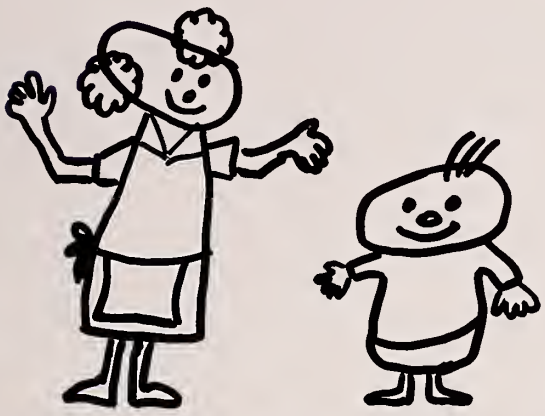
Yesterday . . . The Junior Prom

Spanish and French Honor Society

In order to be inducted into the National Spanish or French Honor Societies, a student must be enrolled in either Spanish IV or French IV and have had at least a B plus average throughout the four years. The members were inducted at the end of October. There were twenty-five members inducted into the Spanish Honor Society and six members inducted into the French Honor Society. Some members inducted into the Spanish Honor Society were Frank Cann — president, Lori MacLeod — secretary, Jennifer Phelps, Chris Izzi, Sandra Calderon, Mike Shipulski, Sue Boucher, John Sciacca, Jodie Danella, Pat Bergeron, Chris Messer, Chris Faucher, Fred Iannuccilli, Eric Kuchar, Leslie Figueroa, and Laura Hebert. The six members inducted into the French Honor Society were Jo Ann L'Italian — president, Joy Paris — secretary, Karen Mahon, Nancy Moore, Gabriele Oeckl, Mary Wajda.

Nursery School



Most students at Methuen High School are not aware that there is a nursery school in their high school. They are not aware, also, that the nursery school has been in existance since the establishment of this school, eight years ago.

The nursery school is for Methuen residents only, and its six week session begins in March. The children are usually three or four years of age. The school is taught by Ms. Benner-Hall. In addition, Mrs. Swider is teaching the class for the first time this year.

Juniors and Seniors are able to sign up for the Child Developement class which is run in conjunction with the nursery school. This course helps the students consider a career with children and also helps them learn and explore parenthood. It is unfortunate that enrollment in the class has been predominantly from the ranks of the girls at M.H.S. In the eight year history of the school, only about twenty boys have signed up. The nursery school helps students learn the creative play of children and learn about kids. They also learn about the children themselves. They learn about the creative process of childhood and how this processing can result in the production of something such as coloring, or cutting out pictures. Most importantly, a student in the Child Developement course learns about herself, and learns from her experiences with these young children.

Travel Notes

Where can your paradise be found? Several groups of Methuen High School students set out this April vacation to frolic, meet new people, and relax. Some decided to go to Europe. Ms. Anne Marie Fiorilla and her travel companions visited Switzerland, France, Germany, and Belgium. Ms. Fiorilla did not heed her own warnings. She had her passport stolen, and her students were forced to smuggle her into Switzerland. The group had a great time at all the discos!

Ms. Carol Dufresne went to France and Switzerland. They all had a wild time. Because her wallet was missing, Lisa Deschamp learned how to survive on $5 a day.

Mrs. Leonie Longshore's group spent 7 days (and nights!) sunning, shopping, and sightseeing in Bermuda. Among the most memorable sights were the huge coconut trees, the long, hot beaches, and the numerous bottles of solarcaine!

A group of seniors, chaperoned by Mrs. Ann Marie Krusell, Mrs. Stott and Mrs. Gagnon took a 5 day trip to Virginia Beach. Also, the band went to Florida to participate in the Disneyland parade. Between competitions, they visited Epcot and Mickey.

The International Club spent a weekend in New York, where they visited the U.N. and saw many exciting sights.

M.M.

. . . And That's The Way It Was — 1983!

On Class Day, seniors were able to have a last good-natured laugh at themselves through the readings of the History, Will, and Prophecy. The memories of their beginnings were jarred with the reading of the History by Sandra Novak and George Nasser. Students laughed at the assortment of gifts bestowed upon the faculty and fellow classmates as Dina Savastano and Michael Shipulski read the Will, and they enjoyed imagining themselves and friends holding the outrageous positions described by Tom Laliberty and Mike O'Connell as they read the Prophecy. Lori Macleod was the Class Day speaker, and class officers in attendance were Nancy Bakios, Erick Kuchar, Thomas Laliberty, and David Colizzi. The highlight of the day was the presentation of a diploma to Arthur Nicholson, making him an honorary member of the class of 1983.

The Night of the Stars

Students who had excelled in particular subjects and activities during their years at Methuen High were honored at the Senior Awards Night on Tuesday, May 31st. Several of the awards received at this affair were the Joyce Minzner Memorial Trophy, the Dartmouth Book Award, the Semper-Fidelis Award, and the DAR Award. Mr. David Whiting, senior class advisor, assisted in the presentation of awards, and a reception in the upper lobby followed.

S.D.

The Royal Feast

On Thursday evening, June 2, 1983, seniors who had achieved honors status were gathered in recognition of their academic excellence. Dr. Paul Zdanowicz, superintendent of Methuen public schools, was the master of ceremonies, and Father O'Connor of St. Monica's Church delivered the invocation and benediction. After dinner and an address by Dr. William Hogan, President of the University of Lowell, gold tassles and certificates of merit were awarded by Kenneth Dolloff, Arthur Nicholson III, Gregory L'Heureux, and David Whiting.

A Night To Remember

After hours of preparation, the seniors of Methuen High School gathered for the biggest celebration of their senior year — the senior prom.

Glamorous gowns and formal tuxedoes were the attire for this end-of-the-year occasion, held at the Sheraton Rolling Green in Andover. Sleek, black limosenes transported many of those attending this gala event. Many others arrived anxiously on their own.

Following the meal, the party continued with dancing of all kinds, including such novelties as the hokey-pokey. A good time was had by all, and a celebration to long be remembered.

C.B.

Onward & Upward

Standing in front of the main entrance or at the bus loop, we would playfully wave good-bye to our friends, never dreaming of the day to come when we would have to wave good-bye in earnest. Would we ever have to salute them for a last time? Of course not. We had only just begun.

But inevitably that day and the end has come. Graduation Day is upon us. That future we used to dread so anxiously is now ours to mold. We gaze through the door to the future; a future that is rich in promise.

As we prepare to pass through this door, we bid fond farewell to teachers and old friends and say hello to new experiences. "Adieu" to all who have made a memorable past, and welcome to a bright future.

METHUEN HIGH SCHOOL

The Year in Review.

Nineteen hundred and eighty-two was a year teeming with history-making events. From Poland, where Solidarity made a desperate last attempt against government repression, to Lebanon, where the PLO was forcefully evacuated by the Israelis, the year was host to many momentous global happenings.

From Central America to Southwest Asia, war was the headlining story of the year. They ranged from guerrilla skirmishes to full-scale battles at sea. In El Salvador, thousands died at the hands of those committed to putting an end to a fight for colonial territory. In early June, five hundred Israeli tanks moved into Lebanon to expel the inhabitating PLO guerillas. The war between Iran and Iraq entered its third year in September. And so it went. By the end of 1982, eighteen countries had been at war, and an estimated 125,000 people had lost their lives.

Nevertheless, nineteen eighty-two consisted of much more than war paraphernalia and bloodshed. After a twelve-year campaign for ratification, the Equal Rights Amendment was defeated. In New York City, 700,000 anti-nuke acuvists staged the largest political demonstration in U.S. history. Twelve million people were unemployed. E.T. was on its way to becoming the greatest blockbuster of all time. In Madison Square Garden, 2,075 couples were married by the Reverend Sun Myung Moon of the Unification Church, and a long-awaited monument to honor Vietnam veterans was erected in Washington to the delight of thousands.

The graduates remember 1982 as a year in which world and American history was made, but they also remember 1982 as a year which marked a special time in the history of their lives. Nineteen eighty-two was the beginning of their senior year in high school. It paved the way for 1983, the year of their graduation and a time of transition in their lives. There is no doubt that future world events will influence their lives. Some of the graduates may even be responsible for shaping these events.

Class History

We the class of 1983 entered Methuen High School, in the year 1979, eagerly awaiting the many challenges which lay ahead. With homeroom before first period and not knowing that we could return to our lockers at the end of each class, we aimlessly wandered through the halls becoming easy targets for upperclassmen ridicule because of the stack of books in our arms. Soon realizing that the science department was not on the third floor, we were leary about what to expect in our future years at the high school.

Ready to take on the challenge of leading our freshman class were Josephine Palmisano — President, Mary Wajda — Vice-President, Nancy Bakios — Secretary, and Robyn Pappalardo — Treasurer. The six student senate members included Nancy Moore, Cindy Shaheen, Lisa Deschamp, Joy Davis, Lauran Mariano, and Joyce Paris. The freshman sports teams which formed the foundation of our future athletic program exemplified potential and promise for our upcoming varsity seasons.

The freshman football team completed a highly successful season with a record of 9 wins 0 losses and 1 tie. Memorable players carrying the team were Frank Giarruso, Brian Welch, Mitch Kamal, Dave Smith, Dave Riel, Glen Gearin, Al Firth, Ray Hollins and Sean Nartiff.

Also holding up to the winning tradition, almost, was the freshman soccer team which compiled a 2-7-3 record. Superstars included Brian Letourneau, Mark Lyons, and Tony Quaglietta.

Cheering us on to victory were Linda McIntosh, Sue Boynes, Jennifer Phelps, Nancy Tardif, Tricia Bergeron, Allison Bagdoian, Sue Bourcher, Mary Boucher, Lisa Grasso, Carin Allen, Chris Abraham, and Debbie Dumont who were members of our star cheering squad. Our weekends proved to be exciting with a wild night escaping up and down the pathways of the Methuen Mall. Sophomore class officer elections held at the end of the freshman year resulted in Dina Savastano-President, Mary Wajda — Vice-President, Nancy Bakios — Secretary, and Josephine Palmisano — Treasurer. The six freshman senators were all voted in for another year.

With one year of experience behind us, we were no longer the targets of ridicule. Our newly gained authority was used to some advantage. Some of us proved to be successful while others weren't so lucky. Some of the infamous names falling into this category and heard daily over the P.A. were Joe Lima, Cory Bannister, Renee Couture, Lisa Giordano, Art Lopresti, Eileen McKone, and Cheryl Cebula. Two of the most memorable moments in our sophomore year included the two well attended fights. John Motta and Dave Morin provided Mrs. Van Horn's homeroom with front row seats to the premier battle of the year when they came crashing through the blackboards. Also trying to get into the action were Chuck Fitzpatrick and James Pinto. Once again our football team proved to be successful with another undefeated season.

Dropping from a 20 member squad to an 8 member squad was the JV Basketball team which took over the tradition of the freshman soccer team with a record of 9-12. Members of the team included Gary Poulin, Pat Lannan, and Bill Kenny.

Other notable participants in the athletic department were Robin Ciarcia, April Mello, Robin Stevenson, Kathy Whiteside, Sue Chretian, Jim White, Gina Hadley, Lee Ramos, Scott Lister, Tom Battaglia, and Mark Das.

At the end of the sophomore year, the prestigious class rings arrived but, unfortunately, not all buyers received them. This was because some unprestigious people borrowed some of the rings, permanently.

At the closing of the school year was the traditional Honor Society Induction of 21 students.

With thoughts concerning our junior year we held our elections which resulted in Mary Wajda — President, Dina Savastano — Vice-President, Nancy Bakios — Secretary, and Josephine Palmisano — Treadurer. The senators were Nancy Moore, Cindy Shaheen, Colleen Bleczinski, Peggy Donovan, Jill Stackelin, and Carolyn Pugh.

Our promotion to junior year brought about new responsibilities with thoughts focused on our future careers.

However, some of us were not as serious as others and this was noticeable because of the continual repetition of certain names heard over the intercom requesting them to report to the office during a designated period. These familiar names were Lynn Baillargeron, Pam Becotte, Diane Tremblay, Rhonda Fitzmaurice, Gina Luchesi, and Doug Brandin. The 1980-81 interscholastic athletic program was honored for the third consecutive year by winning the "Earnest B. Dalton" trophy for program excellence. Some examples of the outstanding performance included the boys and girls cross country team with combined record of 16-1. Excellent performances were turned in by Jim Donahue, Mike Hillard, Chris DiZoglio, and Ellen Gray.

Jamie Comerford, John Palumbo, Steve Bissonette, and Jimmy Lorenzo led the boys' gymnastics team to a notable 7-2 record. Our future girls' swim team captains, Lisa Morin and Doreen O'Donahue, ended the season with a winning record.

Although they were not the most publicized sports teams, the golf team and girls' tennis team proved to be the most noteworthy. A season 12-0 record gave the golf team with members Joe Fisichelli, Mike Marcoux, and Peter Tine the only undefeated spring sport record. Lsoing only one match and winning 15 was the girls' tennis team, with such outstanding members as MaryAnn Mistal and Maribeth Lemoine.

Academically, our junior year was very important with visits to college fairs and the taking of the dreaded S.A.T.'s. This year the honor society inducted 20 members. Three of the officers were Lori MacLeod, JoAnn L'Italien, and Jennifer Phelps.

During our April vacation, many of us attended a glamourous dance otherwise known as the junior semi-formal. Unlike other school dances this one went to 12:00 but one would never know this since the place was cleared by 10:00.

As the school year came to an end, the candidates for Boys and Girls State were chosen. They consisted of Scott Bleczinski, Paul Bergeron, George Nasser, Doug Rademacher, Tony Quaglietta, Dan Bishop, Mike Reidl, Maura Fitzgerald, Lori Melvin, and Lisa Shaefer. Our junior year produced two memorable occurences — the never ceasing fire alarms and for many the long awaited driver's license.

Our Final class election came in May of the junior year, resulting in one of the biggest political battles Methuen High School has ever seen. After much publicity, controversy, campaigning, debating, voting, and re-voting, it finally resulted in Tom Laliberty — President, Dave Colizzi — Vice-President, Nancy Bakios — Secretary, and Erick Kuchar — Treasurer. The 6 class senators were Cindy Shaheen, George Nasser, Lisa Scarelli, Carolyn Pugh, Lori Williamson, and Jody Danella.

Another unusual election occurred when for the first time in Methuen's history there was a tie between Carin Allen and Betty-Ann Latulippe, the attendents who were accompanying the Homecoming Queen, Sandy Novak.

What more can be said about the accomplishments of the Methuen High School football team? The team included John Motta, Tim Getchell, Jim Mellor, and Erick Kuchar. They finished their season with a 9-0-1 record. The track team also with a victorious overall season record of 15-1 included Mike O'Connell, Dave Colizzi, Mike Shipulski, Dan Martin, Tom Laliberty, and Scott Bleczinski. They were not only outstanding track stars, but also the foundation of the football team.

In other sports, memorable athletes included Sue Wante and Colleen Cox for field hockey, Alicia Collopy and Michelle Jozokos for volleyball, Monica Baker, Colleen Bleczinski, Roberta Rosemarino, and Ellen Murdock for track, Cheryl Sprague and Sandy Novak for gymnastics, Brian Boes and Mike Bolduc for wrestling, and Dawn Vinciguerra and Josephine Palmisano for softball. All these worthy athletes were at one time members of the first or second All-Star Team.

A battle entitled "Laliberty vs. Yearbook Staff" with the student senate as the catalysts threw much controversy into the senior class.

Time seemed to fly by as we filled out applications and anxiously awaited to hear from colleges and job possibilities. The next thing we knew the senior class play was upon us. "Cheaper By The Dozen" produced such fine actors as Doug Rademacher, Karen Mahoney, Sandy Cruickshank, Lisa Deschamp, John Perrault, Sue Blodgett, John Sciacca, Lori Williamson, Kelly Ross, Billy "You-re So Right" Kenny, and Tom "I'm not getting any help at all" Laliberty.

After years of hard work the Methuen High School Band had such talented musicians as Sue Caredeo, Beth Curtis, Sean Devine, Mike Farley, Lisa Hartnett, Fred Iannuccilli, Maria Moan, Chris Smith, and Kenny Waites. As a reward the band was honored by travelling to Florida to play in the Disneyworld Parade. Our senior prom occured on an unusually nice Saturday towards the end of May. With no unusual occurences, the prom proved to be a highly enjoyable event which will never be forgotten.

And that's the way it was in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

Sandy Novak, George Nasser, and Erick Kuchar

Will

Let it be known that we, the Class of 1983 of Methuen, MA, being of sound and reasonable mind and realizing the uncertainties of life upon leaving these hallowed halls of learning, do hereby decree this to be our last will and testament.

We, some members of the Class of 1983, leave Tom Laliberty a step ladder to come down off his high horse.

We, the group, leave Chuck Lima one "Get out of jail free" card.

We, leave Jim Lorenzo the back room, an empty media lab, and a free meal at the restaurant of his choice.

I, Jodie, leave Buck Henry a pacifier.

We, Dave and Fred, leave John Saba a new saddle for the horse he just jumped off.

We, the entire senior class, leave Big Rob a full length mirror so he may admire himself forever.

I, Gina Hadley, leave Martin Couture his own gossip column in the National Enquirer.

Sandi and Linda McIntosh leave Tom Torrisi a stack of Bibles so that he can "swear to God" on them.

We, Robyn Pappalardo and Judy Perillo, leave Mr. Gurry 30 lollipops for next year's freshman class.

I, J.D., leave Oaks 1,000 "I'm sorry's", a ton of good memories and all my love.

We, the students on the New York trip, leave all 3 teachers machine guns and flashlights to patrol the halls of the Hotel Taft.

To my cousin Mark DiFruscia, I leave all my weights so when I go to California he can get as big as I am.

I, Sandi Cruickshank, leave to Susan Wante a pair of fleecelined thongs so she can wear them year round.

I, Pam Dube, leave Susan Zraket and Jo Ann Geary a bottle of aspirin for all future headaches, and best of luck to next year's colorguard.

We, the seniors of the baseball team, leave Darren Spada one black cat to replace the one that got chopped up in his car engine.

I, Mary, leave to Miss Allen, 48 cans of new tennis balls to open one by one in front of Mr. Don Smith.

I, Susan, leave Lisa one hanging fuschia plant and one free token for the MBTA to get to South Station.

I, Pam Saulen, leave Debbie Furnari all the headaches that go along with being the Drum Major! Have fun.

We, Tiff and Oakes, being of almost sound minds and bodies, do leave to J.K., Frank and Mark our favorite parking spot and a $20 gift certificate for the Fulton St. drive through. Also, a litle advice — party.

To Mr. Noiseux we leave a year's supply of chocolate from Bermuda.

To Maria Corey we leave a 6 foot set of stilts so that she can see over the desk.

We, Mrs. Krusell, Mrs. Gagnon, and Mrs. Stott, leave Colleen, Sandy, Joann, Carin, and Peggy a fire extinguisher for the next time they decide to bake.

I, Peggy, leave Mrs. Krusell a couple of giggles for when she has a bad day.

I, Mr. Gilbreth, leave Ma a young Paul Newman to try to fill my spot in the class play next year.

I, Maura, leave Karen Whiteside one last Senior Prom to go with our friend So Co.

We, J.J. and Naze, would like to thank Holly and Nancy for all their help during high school.

We, Mr. Melnicki's 5th period class, leave Mr. Melnicki with the hope that he will never get a class like ours again.

I, Lisa D., leave Ma a secretary that does dishes and cleans dishes.

We, Lori, Chris, and Sandy leave Mr. Salmonnson one secretary to keep his rank book in order.

Jo and Sandy leave Mr. Gurry 1,000 more excuses why we won't be in homeroom.

I, Scott, leave Mr. Klimas all the Lithuanian jokes I know.

I, Frank, leave my sister, Lynne-Rose all my Monarch notes for her tests in Mr. Jenning's class next year.

I, Jackie, leave Mr. Pilat lots of luck and a big thanks for everything.

We leave Scott Slomba bendable arms.

We, Diane, Donna, Doreen, Kellie, Nancy and Sandi leave Mr. Salmonnson an address book for all his friends that he has stories about.

I, Paul Johnston, leave to Mr. Whiting the sole possession and leadership of the 7th level fourth Reich of Methuen High. Seig Heil!

I, David Habeeb, leave all my unfinished and incorrectly done journals and ledgers for Miss St. Pierre to correct.

I, David Habeeb, leave the entire Media Center Staff the complete collection of the famous "Ranger Report" series for them to enjoy over and over again.

The seniors in Miss Hiller's period 6 class leave her with another year of Mike Scuderi and Bill Toto and their compliments.

We, the seniors of the 1983 Volleyball Team leave the members of the 1984 team a book on How To Coach Yourselves.

I, Karen, wish Kim Perocchi luck on Miss Devine's computer science final — you'll need it.

We, Miss Kevgas's third period class, leave 2 rolls of dimes for emergency phone calls and a photo session for the cover of Vogue.

We leave Mr. Nick a tailor who is not afraid of water.

To Chris Abraham and Sandy Novak, I Doreen, leave one memorable day at the beach, a frisbee and, of course, a can of shaving cream.

I, Doreen, leave Kellie, Donna, Nancy, and Diane a happy loving life forever and ever, you all deserve it.

I, Doreen, leave Diane a ride whenever she needs one, and all my love.

We, Lisa, Joyce, JoAnn and Karen leave Miss Dufresne's French IV next year gift certificates to McDonald's.

I, Dina, leave Joyce Paris a pack of gum.

We, the yearbook staff, leave Mrs. Krusell a date with Richard in his truck to Elly's bar and lounge.

From Mr. Salemi's 3rd period Chem. class, we leave all sponges to mop up the water we left on the floor and also be sure to check all homework.

I, Jill, leave Marlene a year's supply of green apples to eat every morning.

I, C.M., leave Robby a pair of sunglasses to shade his green eyes.

I, Jennifer Croteau, leave Joe O'Leary a deck of cards to play 45's forever.

I, Cynthia, leave my "Student of the 2nd semester award" to my good friend and competitor, John Sciacca.

I, Calvin, leave the whole senior class a free sundae at "Friendly's".

We, Lisa and Jane, leave Lisa a date with Fred Flintstone.

We, Nancy and Jill, leave Mrs. Pelletier gladly.

We, Mrs. Van Horn's homeroom, leave her a whole new class of freshman to give her detention threats to.

We, Mr. Robillard's 6th period gym class, leave him a gym class to replace ours that never went.

I, Allison, leave Lisa my smashed up blue Camaro, Snoopy sweatshirts, and all my love.

I, Allison, leave Moe all my love and a teddy bear.

We, Ruby, Leslie, and Nancy leave Maria, Laurie, and Sara a year supply of their favorite magazine.
Ann, Dawn, and Roberta leave Mr. Bourque a pile of worksheets to file if he wishes.
We, Dave Collizzi and Tom Laliberty, leave next year's football captains a tank full of gas to run errands for Mr. Klimas.
We, Tom and Dave, leave Steve Walsh to rule over the weight room during track.
I, Deanna, leave the boys in Dining Room 4 my yellow shoes with instructions on what to do with them.
I, Doug, leave John my college address (wherever that may be) so the clown will write once in a while.
I, Tracey, leave Lisa and Mary an all expense paid trip to Bermuda.
I, Tracey, leave Michelle one returned telephone call and all my problems.
I, Tracey and Kathy, leave Mary a car that moves.
I, Tracey, leave Stanley a ride to Hudson, New Hampshire so he can pick up his car.
I, Lisa leave Mr. Jones a package of certs (from a female admirer).
I, Peg, leave a dozen of long-stem dead roses to Kevin.
We, John, Jim, Richie, and Veinsie, leave Miss Fiorella "The Big Twinkie".
We, Maura and Dina, leave Heidi, Theresa, and Tammy our patience and a boxing ring.
We, Maura and Dina and Jodie, leave Tall Timber a buzz saw.
I, Maura, leave Tammy the note you gave Jimmy and nothing else.
We, Monica, Ellen, and Colleen, leave Karen a new set of "chaperones" at Dartmouth.
I, Rod, leave Karen a white Corvette with a red bow.
I, Diane, leave to Tracey a pair of white tennis shorts and a Mickey Mouse sweatshirt to use in good health.
I, Karen, leave Sandi Cruickshank a key to the U-Lowell dorms to crash all of Paul's parties.
We, Joy, Ann, and Sylvie, leave Paul his very own word processor so he won't be bored when we leave.
I, Christine Faucher, leave Madelyn Leone, Mr. Salemi.
I, Chris, leave Jo Ann one pin that says "I am the life of the party" to keep her voice from going hoarse.
We, Mrs. McGrath's period 4 class, leave her one eraser.
I, David, leave my half decent high school attitude toward school to another high school student.
I, Alicia, leave my sister Maura all the nicknames I have acquired.
I, Lori, leave Dave Picarillo one more year to try and get into the Honor Society.
We, Lori and Karen, leave Mr. Russell 101 reasons to get an "A" in physics and his own "See lawyer".
I, Lori, leave Jenny with memories of a great senior year.
I, Gerbs, leave Shae Baddour, Rich Salois, and John Silvestro one batting glove.
We, Fred, Tom, Dave, and Glen leave to Mr. Nick one pair of tan dickies so he will now have an even dozen.
We, Period 2 Calculus class, leave Mr. Fradette, 100 boxes of white chalk.
We, the seniors of 1st lunch, dining room 4, leave Mr. Whiting several thousand crushed milk cartons.
To Allison, my best friend, I leave the 3rd parking lot for us to smash up cars in.
We, Linda, Cheryl, and Carin, leave Karen Balsamo and Robin Moll one more year of spiders and Kats at Mary Jane's studios and a free pass to skip ballet on a Friday night, without getting in trouble.
We, Cheryl, Kellie, Carin, Lisa, and Cathy, leave Mr. Robillard next year's sixth level gym class, free passes to McDonald's for every time they say they are going out jogging.
I, Cheryl, leave Ms. Allen four years as a great coach and a terrific friend.
We, Deanna Roy and Karen Belluardo, leave Sue Robichaud a key to McDonald's.
We, the seniors honors English class leave next year's class Mr. Jennings, who will spoil, pamper, and molly coddle you by doing all your work for you.
I, Tracey, leave Gary one English class to recite his poem of spring.
We, Kathy, Tracey, and Mary leave Stanley at home with no ride to the Voke football game.
I, Tracey, leave Mary someone to yell her nickname (COCODO) down the hallway.
I, Tracey, leave Miss Dufresne, 3 yearbook staff members who will give her 3 times as much aggravation as I did.
I, Tracey, leave Miss Devine a free year of speech classes so that she can say quiz instead of quizzzzzzz.
I, Tracey, leave Mr. Fiorentini, one pupil to tell all his stories about his friends.
I, Kathy, leave Gary 500 pieces of paper so he can write back to me over the next four years.
I, Mary, leave Gary a dessert every day for lunch for the next four years.
I, Tracey, leave all my roommates from Virginia, a bigger bathroom, an iron and a ton of make-up.
Lisa and Mary leave Rob one coconut tree.
I, Jenny, leave Dave all my love.
I, Jennifer, leave Mr. Russell my devoted dedications to my homework, my extreme attentiveness during class, and a book on one thousand ways to get out of a physic test by me.
I, Chris, leave Jay a set of blinders, a seeing eye dog and a map to get him to his classes.
I, Jenny, leave my brother Jeff, an all expense trip for three glorious years at Methuen High.
I, Dina, leave my sister Cara, a whole new wardrobe of clothes, (of her own), and all my love.
I, Chris, leave Sandy a book on Priss Etiquette, and also a book on "How to Reform Juveniles".
I, Bet Latulippe, leave Mom Dufton a stack of every kind of pass one can think of and a whole lotta love.
We, Lauren, Betty, and Maribeth, give Mr. Palm our ice skates — we never needed them anyway.
We, Marlene, Cindy, and Joyce, leave Jill a one way ticket to Lebanon.
Collen and Ellen leave Mr. Molesso a pair of crutches and plans for a new long jump pit.
Maura and Colleen leave Chucky and Jimmy a gift certificate to Bob Loo's.
Mr. Whiting's 7th period leaves Mr. Whiting another year with "Kerman".
I, George, leave Jenny 40 notes, the best of luck in Ithaca, a lifetime supply of notebooks, about 20 minutes and my eternal friendship — if she can stand it.
We, Dan and Chris, leave Mr. Brouder a complete set of mix and match "Garanimals".
We, the senior class, leave Ms. Kevgas, a new voice.
Second period Calculus, leave Mr. Fradette an alarm clock to wake up and die right.
We leave Mr. Jennings a new index finger.
I, Pat, leave Mrs. Longshore a tennis racket to go along with the ball she took from me.
We leave Mr. Ziminski a complete set of Black Sabbath and Ozzy Osbourne albums.
I, Mrs. Krusell, leave Colleen, Frank, and especially Scott, a free course in "How not to forget your glasses, pen, books, pictures, etc."
I, Doug, leave Marlene mit schwierigkeit, aber ich werde zuruckkommen.

— Dina Savastano and Mike Shipulski

Prophecy

The year is 2003; the place is Methuen High School Field House, and the event is the twenty-year reunion of the graduating class of 1983. The field house, its roof sagging with the weight of its twenty Dalton Flags, has otherwise changed very little; however, some of the people changed quite drastically; for instance:

"Too fast" Dave Colizzi has stunned the world by beating ten time Boston Marathon champion Jim Donahue with a record shattering time of 2 hours flat.

Sean Nartiff, John McEneaney, and Scott Tucci have recently been appointed by the President of the United States as ambassadors to China because he felt that they could deal most effectively with those people.

Nuclear war was narrowly averted when Tom Torrisi sneezed and the new Liberated Nazi Party, led by Paul Johnston, picked it up on their explosion detection device. But at the last minute, George Nasser talked him out of a counter attack.

Fred Habib, owner of Super Swirl Inc., has challenged Joe Fisichelli of Dairy Queen to a nationwide "taste-off". The tasters will be Jim Mellor, Al Firth, JoAnn Firth, and Carla Cuticchia.

Glen Gearin, Scott Tucci, and Dave Colizzi are now sanitation workers because it's the best job they could find after getting thrown off the Westfield State campus for rude behavior.

Eddie Difrucia and John Anderson have contracted anorexia nervosa and have dwindled to a mere ninety pounds of skin and bones.

The United States Soccer Team has pulled off the upset of the century by defeating Italy in the World Cup Soccer Championship. Starring for the U.S. were Steve Wobser, Scott Slomba, Rob Muise, Rick Rousseau, and Mike Barry.

The Methuen Modeling Agency has now become the top modeling agency in the world. Their top models include Kelly Ross, Jayne Blomquist, and Mary Boucher. Designing new fashions are Suzanne Bergeron, Laurie Hebert, Jackie Levasseur, and Zoe Giannousis.

After many years as a cook for McDonald's, Paul Perrone has opened his own chain of restaurants called "La Perrone's".

Mike and Paul Bolduc, The Flying Bolducs, have just beaten Pretty Boy Brian Boes and Luscious Steve Hering for the World Wide Wrestling Federation Tag-Team Championship.

John Sciacca, Frank Cann, Sandy Cruikshank, Lisa Deschamp, John Perrault, Dan Bishop and Lori Williamson are currently starring in an off Broadway production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin", it was cancelled after opening night because the audience could not accept John Sciacca as Uncle Tom.

Douglas Rademacher, while ruthlessly stepping all over his business associates, created his own high-tech firm, "Compumacher", and has become the wealthiest man in America.

Kenny Hajjar has just been appointed truancy officer by town council members Patty Bell, Sheila Dubois, Karen Gorrie, Rachel Lamontagne, George Araskiewicz, and Debbie Bolduc.

Nancy Bistany, Donna Charette, and Kellie Harrison are now doing "Flaky Puff" commercials for a living.

Lori Brearly and Brenda Ciaraldi are now on the Board of Directors of Burger King Corporation.

Joe Yarid is now starring as Jesus Christ in a remake of the movie Godspell. Also starring as an apostle is Billy "You're So Right" Kenny.

Kenny Dussault has been arrested for impersonating Alice Cooper and recording records under the name Alice Cooper.

John and Paul LeClerc have taken over their father's Potato Chip Factory.

Erick Kuchar is now the Grand Pubah of The Sons of the Ukraine Lodge.

Oil has just recently been discovered in West Methuen; it was discovered on the land of Claudine Aboukhalil, Chris Abraham, Herb Ramy, Dan Martin, Jerian Kalil, Mitch Kamal, David Habeeb, Jeff Haggar, Mounir Ramy, and Lisa Saab, they have set up their own oil cartel and have OPEC's high prices out of the market.

Bruce Ratcliffe now plays center for the Los Angeles Lakers, he stands 8 feet, 6 inches and he is still working on perfecting his two-handed slam dunk.

After playing for the United States Olympic hockey team, John Bradley and Mike Marcoux are having brilliant careers with the Boston Bruins.

John Ahearn and Sue Boynes are test drivers for General Motors.

The new USFL franchise, the Methuen Zulu's led captains Jim Mellor, Dave Riel, Chris Auger, Joe O'Leary and Mark Whittaker, have yet to win a game or draw a crowd of more than fifty people. But coach Sue Wante feels they are improving every game.

Karen Mahoney now has her own medical practice in the center of town; she has learned to play golf and takes every Wednesday off.

Cory Bannister, Steve Bissonnette, Darryn Cormier, Dan Kowal, John Palumbo, Chris Morse, Pat Lannan, John Padvaiskas, and Steven Smith have moved from their playground in N2 to the steps of Community Drug Store in the square.

Chris DiZoglio and Ellen Gray were the first two people ever to run across the Continental United States.

Maureen Bourassa, Diane Amaral, Rhonda Bodenrader, Beth Boucher, Dawn Vinciguerra, Joyce Paris, Julie Cimino, Lisa Morin, Steve Vynorius, and John Mushow are starring as munchkins in the Wizard of Oz II.

Dave Skelly, Mike Shipulski, Mike Viger, and Tom Calvetti have been inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame for most errors and lowest batting averages ever recorded.

Since he did such a good job of coaching varsity sports while in high school, Athletic Director John Motta hired himself as head coach of all sports at Methuen H.S.

Paul Halloran is fulfilling his lifetime dream as a mortician.

Jim Pinto opened "Jim's Gym" and some of his patrons include Steven Kay, Jeff Janco, Woody McDonald, Steven Sanderson, Richard Picarillo, and Ray Gauthier.

John Ahearn is now a State Trooper working on Route 213, watching for people who have been driven off the road.

Tom Reagan and Tony Quaglietta are still trying to get their diplomas which they neglected to obtain because they slept through graduation.

Mark Picarillo starred in a Karate film which he wrote and produced called "They Call Me Mark".

Dina Savastano, Cindy Shaheen, Bob Donald, Jennifer Croteau, and Calvin Corbitt took over the Friendly Corporation. The ice cream chain is losing money drastically, however, because they are giving away too much ice cream.

Jamie Comerford and Sandy Novak got married right after graduation. Jamie now works as a librarian at Nevins and Sandy is a biker with the Hells Angels.

Jean Arcidiacono and Mike Maglia now cohost the Tonight Show.

Colleen Bleczinski, Maura Fitzgerald, Colleen Cox, and Ellen Murdock are now part of the famous rock group the Ho Ho's.

Dan Martin and Monica Baker are now shotputters since they are now too fat to jump over hurdles.

The new radio station WMHS 65.8 on your FM dial has a new disc jockey, Billy (Ha Ha) Roberts and meteorologist Ken Dolloff.

Alicia Collopy, Brian Hall, Kevin Flanagan, Nancy Bakios, and Tracy Watson were last seen in Southern Florida on an Alligator hunting Safari.

Dale Black, while putting in lights at Nicholson Stadium, was electrocuted and lost all his hair.

Lisa Scarelli, Allison Maroun, Laura Santusosso, Dianne Hoyle, and Jim Allat now all have works of art displayed in the Louvre in Paris.

Scott Sevigny has changed his name to Scott Eighty.

The party is about to begin, Father Timothy who came all the way from his Harlem parish to say grace over our meal has just arrived. Nobody recognized this clean cut priest until he removed his coat and revealed the tattoo of a skull and cross bones and the name "GETCH".

ABOUT PARLEX

Parlex manufactures flexible printed circuits, flat laminated cable, rigid printed circuits, rigid multilayers, and custom thick film hybrids. Our products are used by many of the world's foremost manufacturers of electronic equipment for defense, communications, computers, process control, and other commercial uses. Our customers list has grown to include General Electric, IBM, Digital Equipment, Motorola, and hundreds of others.

Parlex is a name synonymous with inventiveness and quality. The company is a leader and an innovator in its specialty: interconnection and products for electronic equipment.

Parlex Corporation was organized in May of 1970. The founders of the company initially rented office space at the Old Town Hall building in Methuen, Massachusetts. In October of that same year operations began at the present site, located at 145 Milk Street in Methuen. The original building was 16,000 sq. ft. Later in 1974, and again in 1979, additional space was constructed increasing the building area to 50,000 sq. ft. expansion first completed in June of 1982 gives Parlex a total of 120,000 sq. ft. This makes Parlex one of the largest manufacturers in its field.

Parlex products have been to the moon and beyond, they also fly in aircraft, travel in U.S. Army tanks, move rapidly in computer printers, and they are at the heart of many pacemakers.

Methuen High is a very strange place.
Rooms do stand with no walls.
Teachers shout to overcome noise.
The students attract friends with calls.

Besides the clatter of the voices,
Firebells ring without cause.
All go out while firemen come.
For this, there should be laws.

There are other things which distract.
Voices and bells aren't all.
Announcements come in the middle of class.
These are a bother to all.

Methuen High is a very strange place.
It's not without its kinks.
Many things are hard to do.
Most of all to think.
